

Beverly Hills Brownie Company FTW!

by AMY

Brownies, brownies, and more brownies, oh my!

Cupcakes have been my “sweet obsession” for quite some time now, but brownies are making their way up there on my list thanks to

Beverly Hills Brownie Company. There is no denying that the kind folks over on the west coast know what they’re doing. Located in Beverly Hills, CA (go figure!), they have almost any flavor of brownie you can think of. If you’re not in the Beverly Hills area they ship anywhere in the continental United States, and I was lucky enough to get my hands on the simply classic, red velvet, peanut brittle, and black and white brownies.

While I enjoyed them all, it’s hard to pick a favorite (none were less than satisfactory, all really tasty), I thoroughly enjoyed the Red Velvet. Is there even any other company out there making red velvet brownies? They were off the charts DE-LICIOUS! They stood on their own as exquisite little pillows of moist red velvet goodness! And the cream cheese frosting on top – just WOW!

If I ever make my way to California, Beverly Hills Brownie Company will be one of my first stops!
