You have our undivided attention.

Cookie Good (Online)

Don't let the name deceive you, as they have Craig M in brownie heaven: "Orgasmic salted peanut brownie experience. Please make it bigger, I'll pay more just give me more!" Try other unique flavors like Nutella, Oreo, and cinnamon dulce de leche. There's no storefront, but you can pick up them up at their HQ in Santa Monica if you don't want 'em delivered!

Beverly Hills Brownie Company (Beverly Hills)

Tony Y is on the search for "a support group for people with a brownie addiction" after indulging in these sweet treats: "Cupcakes are good, but brownies are the new phenomenon. I tried cookies and cream. Oh, my, my, my, it's like eating a brownie sandwich with cookies and cream filling."

Vanilla Bake Shop (West Los Angeles)

Vera E had quite a moment with their baked bar rendition: "I just took a bite of the walnut brownie. Now, imagine this: You, sitting in the chair of a dingy theater (eating said brownie), while Neil Patrick Harris squirts you with a water gun repeatedly saying 'moist.' I will be back for more goodies!"

Truxton's American Bistro (Westchester)

Looking for a sweet treat before your next flight? Out by LAX, Antho L gets his bar nestled under a sundae: "So good with ice cream, chocolate syrup, bits of shaved white chocolate, caramelized pecans, and whipped cream."

Ice Cream Lab (Beverly Hills)

"Where are all the chocolate lovers! This one is for you! It's rich and decadent and will leave you craving more..." Ryan W speaks of the Barrington brownie ice cream sundae at this new "organic" and kosher-certified spot that specializes in mixing up "ice cream right in front of you using liquid nitrogen."
